
Sample Language to Give through Your Will, Living Trust, or Other Policy

Add Aii to your estate plans through different instruments and options. Aii is an alliance of two nonprofits, our 501(c)(3) nonprofit is the Public Institute for Facility Safety (PIFS). Your donations, gifts, and contributions are tax exempt to the fullest extent of the law. When you give to PIFS, you are giving to Aii. Learn more at Aii.org.

Consult legal and financial advisors, then consider the following draft language:

- General, Outright, or Pecuniary Bequest: “I leave the sum of $____ or ____ percent (%) of my estate to be distributed outright to the Public Institute for Facility Safety, Arlington Virginia, Tax ID EIN: 47-2375227.”
 - Your attorney may prefer “I give, devise, and bequeath” or another term of art

- Specific Bequest: “_____ (Name of property) shall be distributed outright to the Public Institute for Facility Safety, Arlington Virginia, Tax ID EIN: 47-2375227.”
 - For Example: Name PIFS as a beneficiary on bank accounts or securities.

- Residuary Bequest: “_____ percent (%) of the remainder of my estate shall be distributed outright to the Public Institute for Facility Safety, Arlington Virginia, Tax ID EIN: 47-2375227.”
 - Use this language once you have provided for your heirs

- Contingent Bequest: “The sum of $____ shall be distributed outright to my sister, Jane Smith. If she does not survive me, then such property shall be distributed outright to the Public Institute for Facility Safety, Arlington Virginia, Tax ID EIN: 47-2375227.”
 - This provides for PIFS if your named heir passes before you. Contingent bequest is a potential gift, that only ends up being made if a specific contingency occurs.

- Life Insurance: Set up a permanent life insurance policy with the insurance company of your choice. Name the Public Institute for Facility Safety as a beneficiary of your life insurance policy or assign the policy to the Public Institute for Facility Safety and use the cash value as a charitable deduction.
